9. CUSTOMER'S OBLIGATIONS IN RELATION TO PHONE SUPPORT: THE CUSTOMER'S ATTENTION IS PARTICULARLY DRAWN TO THIS CLAUSE

- 9.1 A call recording facility is a chargeable service provided by the AGT usually bundled to another product such as a cloud phone system. The AGT will provide the facility for call recording which the Customer will be able to manage via the self-service online portal. It is the Customer's responsibility to ensure that the facility is enabled to record as and when required. It is the Customer's responsibility to ensure that it notifies the relevant parties of the recording of any conversations, either inbound or outbound, using the call recording facility and that its use is in line with applicable legislation. The AGT will keep call recordings stored within the Customer's environment for a period of 4 weeks (Default Period). It is the Customer's responsibility to download, back up and archive securely and appropriately all these call recordings before the end of the Default Period or any extended back up period the AGT agreed with the Customer.

- 9.2 Call recording transfer facility: Upon request, the AGT can provide a bespoke quotation for a solution to archive and transfer call recordings to a Customer's owned or managed storage. The AGT will require the Customer to provide the AGT with access to the Customer's owned or managed storage to enable the transfer via the solution. The AGT will use reasonable endeavours to ensure that calls or users marked or enabled for recording have their recordings saved and archived for the agreed period. It is the Customer's responsibility to assess if the transfer of the relevant call recordings is successful and to notify the AGT promptly about any issues with the transfer. To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the AGT shall not be responsible for any loss or corruption of data connected to any transfer of call recordings to the Customer's owned or managed storage device and the AGT's only responsibility will be to use reasonable endeavours to re-transfer the call recordings to the Customer's owned or managed storage device.
- 9.3 The Customer shall assess the call recording facility and the call recording transfer facility (if applicable) to ensure that they meet its requirements.
- 9.4 It is the Customer's responsibility to ensure that the Customer complies with any applicable legislation connected to call recordings and where applicable to notify the relevant parties, that the calls are being recorded. The Customer shall be responsible for seeking independent legal advice to ensure that its use of the call recording facility is compliant with applicable legislation.
- 9.5 The AGT will allow the Customer to decide whether recordings should be deleted or returned on termination of the contract.
- 9.6 The AGT may from time to time provide number portability, when the AGT's underlying AGTs allow such capability, in accordance with this clause 9.
- 9.7 To initiate a request to port a number from another provider the Customer will need to complete a number port form for each number the Customer wishes to port to the AGT. The AGT will send to the Customer a number port form via email which the Customer will need to complete, sign and submit to the AGT via email. The number port form can be requested to the AGT by email, via the AGT's website or by calling the AGT.
- 9.8 Once the AGT receives the number port form signed by the Customer, the AGT will send the port request to the relevant provider, and inform the Customer whether the port is accepted or not (after the AGT hears from the relevant provider).
- 9.9 Where the Customer agrees to transfer to the AGT the call services it receives from another provider (and requests number porting), the Customer authorises the AGT to:
- 9.9.1 include the telephone numbers to be ported on the relevant number port form; and
 - 9.9.2 to forward appropriate details of the port application to the losing provider and/or to the underlying AGT as applicable.
- 9.10 The Customer will receive a notification of the transfer from the losing provider and will have to pay the port charge and any additional charges related to the number(s) port.
- 9.11 The Customer acknowledges and affirms that:

- 9.11.1 the information provided by the Customer on any number port form will be used by the AGT when requesting the number port.
- 9.11.2 the AGT will not review Customer's port request and that any inaccuracies (e.g. inaccurate or incorrect information) may lead to the number port being rejected by the losing provider.
- 9.12 The AGT reserves the right to charge a reasonable fee to the Customer for any extra port charges incurred and any extra work carried out by the AGT arising from such inaccuracies and subsequent rejections.
- 9.13 The AGT's ability to port the numbers is subject to the losing provider and the underlying AGTs being able, and agreeing, to port the numbers.
- 9.14 Where the Customer is provided with a telephone number (including a code) as part of the Contract, then that code and number belongs to the AGT and the Customer will have no right to keep that number nor to sell, dispose or transfer that number at any time. The AGT will use reasonable endeavours to ensure that the Customer is able to keep the numbers during the term of the Contract but the AGT reserves the right to change the telephone number on notice at the AGT's reasonable discretion.
- 9.15 The Customer acknowledges that where a number is to be ported away from a losing provider, this may also result in termination of the line on which the number was previously allocated.
- 9.16 In some cases the service may not be compatible for analogue lines that are being utilised for facsimile machines. This may result in loss of service. In such instances an alternative e-fax service may be offered to the Customer on request and if available by the AGT.
- 9.17 The Customer hereby agrees that it is the Customer's responsibility to maintain a traditional land line with which to contact the emergency services (including but not limited to the numbers 999 and 112) in the event that a VOIP Call has poor or no connectivity.
- 9.18 The Customer acknowledges that the quality of a VOIP Call may be of a lower quality than the quality of a call on a traditional land line.

- 10.10 The AGT will, as often as it thinks necessary (save in the event of an emergency) upon reasonable notice carry out a System Audit within Business Hours to confirm that, in the AGT's opinion, the Equipment is in reasonable operating condition.
- 10.11 For the avoidance of doubt, IT Support does not extend to:
- 10.11.1 any Equipment not specified or included in the Order Form including any part of the Equipment which is in any way changed from that included in the Order Form;
 - 10.11.2 any Equipment which was, in the AGT's reasonable opinion, operating in an unstable or unsuitable manner prior to the commencement of IT Support;
